

LETTERS FROM ADOPTERS

Just thought you may want an update on Reflection. We call him Ree now for short. These pictures were just taken, so I wanted to share them with you. He is doing great! When my granddaughter spends the weekend, she takes him in her room and watches TV with him.

She loves him! ~Teresa Cummings Sulzby

Tommy

Tommy is doing great! He's the cat with the blue collar on. (He doesn't like it, and he takes it off.)

He enjoys sleeping in my sons' bed at night.

Baby (Lily)

Here is Lily (formerly Baby). She is now a three month old 3.1 pound princess in training. Every day is a new adventure in life. She seems to have only two speeds—full and sleeping—usually in our laps. She is such a joy and loves to be held. Thanks again for allowing us to adopt her. She continues to enrich our lives in so many ways. We wish you the best in your efforts to place cats.

We couldn't be happier with how the entire adoption process went. Baby Neelix has been a perfect fit for our cat family, and he acclimated beautifully into our household. As you can see, he's just "one of the boys" now. He's been a lot of fun both for us humans and for his big brothers! Laura Jenks Commerce, MI

Neelix

Charlotte (now Layla)

Please let everyone see that a timid cat should never be given a cold shoulder. The effort and patience you put in to making them feel comfortable and at home makes these cats turn out to be so loving and loyal. I feel blessed and fortunate to have her. I knew the second I saw her picture and profile she was special. I knew she'd be a lifetime part of my family and she is and will be. ~Mike Wisniewski

Clovis

Things couldn't be better. He has adapted quickly to his new home and sleeps with me most nights. I am so very, very happy. He is one of the most beautiful—no, I take that back—the MOST beautiful cat I've ever seen. Clovis is a joy and is living up to his wonderful Ragdoll characteristics! He is full of spit and vinegar, running around, jumping to great heights, and generally being a "teen-ager!" I am in love—thanks so much to you for making this wonderful match and for making this adoption so easy and efficient!

Nero

I'm sure you guys remember Nero. I rescued him in September of 2008 on Labor Day. When he was brought to you, he was very shy and scared. Now he is very comfortable with my boyfriend and myself. This cat has changed my life. He is quite honestly my best friend and my shadow. We have two other rescue cats that Nero enjoys playing and snuggling with. He is very talkative especially when he wants something and if I don't wake up early enough to feed him, he will tap my nose until I do. He is unique with a great personality. He has recently turned 7-years-old! This is a recent picture of him when he returned from the vet after his dental (all of his teeth are good!). ~Crissy Calvin Toledo, Ohio 🐾
