

FOSTER HOMES NEEDED

Welcome two new foster parents! Stephanie Burns in Farmington Hills is fostering an orange and white tabby named Tango, and Sandy Wilcox in Milford, MI is fostering Izzy, a Balinese breed which is a long-haired cat with Siamese coloration.

Have you ever considered becoming a foster parent? Food and medical care are provided. You can fill out a foster application on our website. 🐾

TOOL TIPS

It is frustrating when using a syringe to administer liquid medicine, and you cannot depress the plunger. This is caused by a vacuum.

To avoid a vacuum, first, draw air into the empty syringe to the medicine's dose level. Then insert the tip of the syringe into the bottle stopper. Depress the plunger releasing the air into the bottle. Then draw up the medicine to the appropriate dosage mark. No vacuum is created and the plunger depresses with ease. 🐾

LETTERS FROM ADOPTERS

Late November of this year will mark Punk's 6th Gotcha Day. This handsome, 11-year-old boy came to live with cat Asher and me in 2015, and we have been blessed to have him in our lives ever since. Punkin turned 17-years-old this summer and despite a health setback with some kidney and thyroid issues, he is doing well with medication and seems to be thriving. He loves his canned food, kibble and treats. He still dips his paw in the water bowl and cups it for a drink. His favorite toy is a tiny crunchy ball he carries around in his mouth which he sometimes even talks to. Punk's hobbies lately have included grooming and fighting with his brother cat Asher, getting fresh air on the balcony, getting brushed plus petted by grandma and taking naps anywhere he pleases. Punkin is my most special boy whom I love with all of my heart 🐾. Everyday with Punkin is a gift. Thank you BDF for bringing him into my life! ~Kelly Coughlin Royal Oak, MI 🐾

LETTERS FROM ADOPTERS

Sugar has been through some major ordeals since summer. He had a procedure done due to a blockage in his urethra. He also sees a cardiologist.

He is healthy and mischievous as ever. He's officially my "million dollar kitty!" But no sacrifice is too much when it comes to my babies.

Sammi is a total diva! She has a spot on the back of the couch that is exclusively hers. The boys don't even try to sleep there anymore. Snickers lay there once and she literally lay on top of him. And she's not a dainty cat. She's my sweet and very spoiled princess.

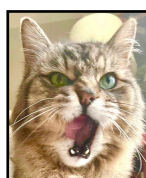

Mr Puffy Pants, left, continues to live in the lap of luxury at my mom's. He moves a little slower these days but my mom caters to his every need.

We adopted Murphy in June, 2020. He was very skittish at first but he's become a lovebug who loves pets and brushing.

He follows our other cat everywhere, and our fears about his FIV (Feline immunodeficiency virus) have been unfounded. We're so glad he chose us.

What greater gift than the love of a cat. ~ Charles Dickens
